PLEASE NOTE: Onvoy, LLC and its subsidiaries Broadvox, LLC and Layered Communications LLC are primarily providers of wholesale telecommunications services to other carriers, resellers and service providers. In general, we do not have end user or subscriber information on file. In most instances the only information we will be able to provide in response to an exigent circumstances request is the name and contact information of our wholesale customer. You must then contact our customer in order to obtain end user information.

We are not able to perform GPS pings on cell phones.
