

Onvoy Privacy Policy

This is a website of Onvoy, and our postal address is contained at the end of this policy statement.

For each visitor to our Web page, our Web server automatically recognizes only the consumer's domain name and e-mail address. We collect the domain name and e-mail address of visitors to our Web page, the e-mail addresses of those who communicate with us via e-mail, information volunteered by the consumer, such as survey information and/or site registrations, name and address, telephone number, fax number.

The information we collect is used by us to contact consumers for marketing purposes, not shared with other organizations for commercial purposes, disclosed when legally required to do so, at the request of governmental authorities conducting an investigation, to verify or enforce compliance with the policies governing our Web site and applicable laws, or to protect against misuse or unauthorized use of our Web site and to a successor entity in connection with a corporate merger, consolidation, sale of assets, or other corporate change respecting the Web site. If you do not want to receive communications from us in the future, please let us know by sending us an e-mail at the address below and we will be sure to note your information accordingly.

From time to time, we may use customer information for new, unanticipated uses not previously disclosed in our privacy notice. If our information practices change at some time in the future we will post the policy changes to our Web site to notify you of these changes and provide you with the ability to opt out of these new uses. If you are concerned about how your information is used, you should check back at our Web site periodically.

With respect to security, when we transfer and receive certain types of sensitive information such as financial information, we redirect visitors to a secure server and notify visitors of same on our site. We have appropriate security measures in place in our physical facilities to protect against the loss, misuse or alteration of information that we have collected from you at our site. If you feel that this site is not following its stated information policy, you may contact us at the below address or email.
